

DeMille Halliburton

A native New Yorker, DeMille Halliburton has specialized in the sports and entertainment industries, working with film, television, and animation production companies, music touring, special events and sports/entertainment personalities for over 25 years. He currently is a Principal at Integro Insurance Brokers, an insurance industry leader. DeMille's hands-on risk management capabilities and deep commitment to his clients' needs have made him stand out as one of the most sought-after advisors in the business.

DeMille is a graduate from Manhattanville College with a Bachelor of Arts in Mathematics. He resides in Los Angeles, California with his wife and two children. He currently sits on the board of directors of The Blackhouse Foundation, an entertainment powerhouse facilitating aid and resources for black filmmakers.

He is also following his passion in the fight for healthy food access for all, serving as Director & founding member of Daily Table Los Angeles, a not-for-profit retail market supported by powerhouse progressive community builders, business leaders from some of LA's most diverse neighborhoods, a consortium of sustainable local farms and founding restaurateurs of Mendocino Farms, Tender Greens, Lemonade, and Innovative Dining Group. Our philanthropic team has come together with Daily Table - Boston to create a transformative place in South Los Angeles.
